

Chairwoman & Co-founder, Asia Crypto Alliance

After a long career in senior compliance and regulatory roles, Vivien stepped into the world of cryptocurrencies in 2019 when she joined BitMEX, one of the leading crypto derivatives exchanges where she was the Global Chief Operating Officer and Interim CEO. Prior to joining BitMEX, Vivien spent close to two decades at Goldman Sachs where she was the Managing Director overseeing Compliance for Asia Pacific Ex-Japan.

Throughout her career, Vivien's focus has helped businesses to balance the complexities of regulatory requirements, commercial considerations and operational demands. Today, as the worlds of traditional finance and digital assets converge, she occupies several positions that capitalize on her expertise to help shape the emerging world of digital-asset powered financial services.

She is the chairwoman and co-founder of the Asia Crypto Alliance, an industry association that promotes a sustainable eco-system for Virtual Asset Service Providers in Asia. Vivien is a Board Advisor on Fusang, Asia's first fully regulated Digital Securities Exchange. She is also a Senior Advisor on StashAway, a digital wealth management platform with more than USD 1bn of assets under management.

Vivien was named a honouree of Tatler Asia's Most Influential List in 2022. As an ardent advocate for diversity and inclusion, Vivien is the founder of W3W and co-founder of Satoshi Women, both of which provide education, inspiration and access to women interested in the digital assets space. She is also on the Advisory Board for Inspiring Girls
